

When thinking about how their home is currently heated, and their current heating system:

89%

of people think it's important it provides instant heat and hot water

93%

of people think it's important that it is cost effective

84%

of people think it's important that it is controllable at short notice

71%

of people think it's important that it takes up minimal space

92%

of people think it's important it is a system they understand how to use

68%

of people think it's important it has a low carbon footprint

When thinking about looking to change how they heat their home in the future, 74% of people believed the cost of the energy bill was the most important factor

75% of people support the Government doing more to prioritise the production & use of domestic green gas over fossil fuel gas

78% of people believe it is important to be able to switch your energy supplier when it comes to heating their home

